Memorial—In loving memory of our son and brother, Sgt. James Albany, killed in action December 15, 1943.

Four years ago today, the one we loved was called away. To love, to hold and then to part, is the saddest thing to the human heart.

Some day we hope to meet him, Some day, we know not when, To clasp his hand, in the better land.

Never to part again.

By DANIEL J. O'CONNOR

HIGH ON A HILL

High on a hilltop I wander

Summer and Winter and Spring

Touching the wealth I can squander

Just like a fairy-tale king.

Troubles are quickly forgotten

Once I have started to climb

Worries are lighter than cotton

Vanishing... three at a time.

High on a hilltop I linger

Viewing the valley below

Guiding the world with a finger

(Footst are dreamers, you know.)

Life is so crowded with duties

Most of us seldom relax

Often we disregard beauties

Building a temple of wax.

Summer and Winter and Maytime

Send a continuous thrill...

Daytime is always a privilege

On the crest of a hill.

MORTICIANS

KINSHIP is the power of lineage that binds generations together. It surmounts influences which tend to dissolve unity. It welds pride and affection into a continuing force that transmits family character, ideals and traditions from one generation to another.

Christmas is "Family Get-together-time"

The Christmas season this year may be an appropriate occasion for you to make the selection of a family monument. If so, we think we can be helpful.

Elleenville Church Ends Rededication Service at Banquet

Elleenville, Dec. 15.—The rededication program at the Elleenville Methodist Church, which opened Sunday morning with comprehensive dedication and memorial services and continued in the afternoon with an organ recital by C. Franklin Pierce of Kingston—attendance at the services being placed at around 900 persons—was brought to an auspicious conclusion Tuesday evening when 125 members of the church and guests enjoyed a banquet, followed by a program of entertainment.

Henry L. Schipp had charge of the kitchen arrangements, being assisted by the women of the U. S. Heights Methodist Church, which permitted the women of the local W.S.C.S. to take their places with the diners.

During the dinner H. Westlake Coons, on behalf of the official board, presented to Leland P. Pulling, a lighter, in recognition of his work as chairman of the building committee. Mr. Pulling was unable to be present because of illness, but the gift was accepted by Mrs. Pulling on his behalf. There were remarks by two former pastors, the Rev. Charles A. Dann of Lakeville, Conn., and the Rev. William H. Moser of Ridgewood, N. Y.

The diners then adjourned to the auditorium where a large congregation had gathered. There were anthems by the choir and singing of old hymns, with John Ferwilliger, organist at the Reformed Church, presiding at the organ. He was highly commended for the manner in which he handled the new organ and brought out its beautiful tones.

The "ancient" choir, with the Rev. Mr. Moser as leader, made its way up the aisle and to the notes of an old melody, loaned by Mrs. A. M. Rapp, sang three old hymns. Composing the choir were Mrs. Allen D. Potter, Miss Mabel Wilkoff, Mrs. Olive Burison, Mrs. Ethel Brundage, Mrs. Rosamond Moore.

Cards Are Condemned

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—The New York State Council of the Knights of Columbus has condemned a set of six Christmas cards bearing a message by Henry A. The Progressive Citizens of America, whose art division published and offered the cards for sale, said it had received a copy of the K. of C. protest signed by Matthew F. Kennedy, chairman of the Council's Catholic Affairs Committee, on behalf of 85,000 K. of C. members in the Council jurisdiction.

Test for Leaks

To test for leaks around the refrigerator door, close the door on a piece of ordinary wrapping paper about the size and thickness of a dollar bill. If the paper pulls out easily the gasket is not tight enough to keep warm air from passing into the refrigerator. Tightening hinges or latches may make the door fit more snugly.

Safety Hint

An automobile involved in a collision should not be driven until it has been carefully checked for damage which may not be readily apparent to the eye. If this precaution is not taken, additional damage may result.

$489 Judgment Is Directed in Van And Trolley Case

A Brooklyn trolley car on De Kalb avenue operated by Arthur Posey struck and damaged a moving van of the Kingston Transfer Company, Inc., on January 9, 1946, while furniture was being unloaded. As a result an action was started in Supreme court to recover damages in the sum of $489.

Rudi Hohenberger testified before Justice Bookstein today that the truck had been parked at the curb for at least an hour and a half while unloading was taking place. Several trolley cars came along and passed. The witness said the car in charge of Posey came "swaying up the street at high speed" and sideswiped the truck. As a result the truck was damaged to the extent of $289 and there is still painting and lettering valued at $100 to be done, in addition the truck was laid up for five days and an allowance of $20 a day was made for loss of use.

The case was tried before Justice Bookstein without a jury and judgment was directed in the amount of $489. William A. Kelly appeared for plaintiff and there was no defense.

There were no bank failures in the United States during 1945, for the first time in 75 years.

Monopoly Is Charged

Washington, Dec. 15 (AP)—Attorney General Clark today charged the United Shoe Machinery Corporation with establishing a monopoly in production of machinery for making shoes. Clark announced a civil anti-trust suit was filed this morning in the U. S. District Court at Boston, under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. A Justice department statement said the suit seeks to compel the corporation to sell all its plants used in manufacture of shoe factory supplies and some of its plants manufacturing shoe machinery and tanning machinery, and to offer to sell its machinery to shoe manufacturers instead of only leasing, as it does now, and to make available to its competitors all patents and know-how relating to shoe machinery.

Christmas Lights Paying Dividends

Ernest Kelly Gives Specific Example of Shopping

Kingston Christmas lights and decorations are paying dividends in the opinion of Ernest A. Kelly, 111 West Chester street, who recently sent the following letter to the local Chamber of Commerce:

ERNEST KELLY
FURNERAL DIRECTOR

December 13th, 1947
Chamber of Commerce
Kingston, New York.

Gentlemen:

Enclosed find check for the wonderful Christmas Street Lighting for this year.

My home is not very close to the lights but I enjoy seeing them and taking my friends to see them.

I had a couple of friends from New Jersey here for a week and I know that the lights impressed them and that they bought more things here than they would have if there were no lights or only in one section.

They can go to New York in 20 minutes; but they did all their Christmas shopping here.

That is just one instance and I know that the people that come to town to see the lights, will buy something.

Even in Poughkeepsie where they do things, the lights are not as nice as ours.

Truly yours,
ERNEST A. KELLY.

Plans Are Made To Organize Books Discussion Group

Tentative plans for the organization of a study and discussion group on great books in Kingston will be made during a special meeting in the Kingston High School library Wednesday, 8 p. m.

Hubert Hoderath, director of adult education, announced today. Much will depend on the success of the local organization, Mr. Hoderath said, in the matter of how many interested people there are who are actually interested in forming such a group. "We invite all such persons to the meeting," he said, "who are interested, but who may find it impossible to attend the meeting, are requested to notify me by calling 1884."

The group is fostered by the Great Books Foundation, a non-profit organization of business and professional men and educators whose sole purpose is to assist those who are interested in establishing similar groups for reading and discussion of the great books.

While plans were discussed some time ago on the possibility of organizing such a group, word came from the Great Books Foundation, recommending that action be postponed until such time that trained leaders could be provided.

Since then Mr. Hoderath has been notified that a training course for leaders will be offered in the Albany area sometime in January at which time two local leaders will be enrolled. Arrangements for their enrollment, it was said, will have to be made soon.

G.O.P. Says Blame

House Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana said there would be no time for further action on the economic front at the special session which ends this week.

"If the Democrats whip this thing," he said, "it's their responsibility for preventing any cost-of-living legislation at this session."

He told reporters that if the bill were opened up for amendments, and the President's price, wage and rationing plan was offered as an amendment, "there wouldn't be 25 votes for it."

All that would result, he argued, would be long arguments and a delay that would prevent any action at the special session.

Under the Republican plan, debate would be restricted to 20 minutes for and 20 minutes against the bill which was introduced by Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich.) of the House Banking Committee.

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

THE TRUMAN PARADOX

Whenever President Truman speaks off the cuff, his popularity rises. He says precisely what is in the minds of most Americans. It is like that remark of his about the "police state." He did not want power that would turn this country into a "police state." Most Americans feel that way. No police state in Europe is particularly attractive to an American. None of those countries are worthy of imitation, according to the ideas of Harry Truman.

But then it all changes. Along come his experts, his smart young men, his power-thirsty New Dealers, his careerists on the make, and sooner or later, Harry Truman contradicts himself. He eats his own words. Certainly it is not the Harry Truman who spontaneously objected to a police state, that authorized Averell Harriman to introduce legislation which must turn this country into a police state. The paradox is that Truman, who on his own is so sound, seems to be so unsure and humble that he lets these authority-hungry empire builders mislead him.

And in the end they will destroy Harry Truman, for whereas he gives every indication of being a man of honest instincts, motivated by a burning admiration of his country and its way of life, his advisers can think of nothing but spending money, piling up taxes, taking subsidies and grabbing power. The ghost of Harry Hopkins guides them. The fear of Henry Wallace motivates them. They have no program of their own.

Harry Truman has taken on an unbelievably heavy burden in entrusting the public presentation of his policy to those who nowadays breathe a fierce capitalism, while introducing a somewhat British socialism, a go-slow socialism which has done nothing for Great Britain and only increases the confusion here. The essential of our recovery is accelerated production. As Bernard Baruch said in 1946:

"Increase production. This is the law and the prophets—without it, the rest of my suggestions are meaningless. So I say again: Increase Production."

"Stop increasing money supply. Stop decreasing taxes until the Budget is balanced. Stop banking the public by saying wage increases can be granted without increase in price levels. Do not fear to increase prices or wages where necessary to get and stimulate production."

"Take care of those between the millstones—clerks, government employees, pensioners, et al. Make surpluses of goods in military hands available to compensate for shortages. Stimulate founding and financing small business. Take stock before blindly lending—make inventories of our goods, our cash, our credit before we increase the pressure on these. Cut government costs, including federal, state, county and city. In time of deflation we should spend; in time of inflation we should save."

"Avoid an economic dictatorship. We are still a free society based on the enterprise system. . . . That was the program for action but it was rejected as every Baruch program dealing with inflation, with preventatives of inflation, with a sensible attitude toward controls has been rejected. The same people who made all the mistakes during the war years that have cost so much time, are back in harness seeking more controls, more limitations on both production and consumption."

Business men who attend Averell Harriman's pep conferences say that he and his staff always use the word "voluntary." He wants them to weaken their business voluntarily. Since when do sensible men voluntarily put their heads in nooses? Why should they?

Who started the present inflation? Was it not a phony statistics issued by the Department of Commerce when Henry Wallace was its chief? Did not those statistics lay the foundation for the policy that wages could be raised without raising prices? That was such an error that ultimately the statistics were set off on by Wallace. Meanwhile the country set off on an inflationary career which, just now beginning to show its effects, is just now beginning to show its effects. And to solve that, all that pay off in heartache is, more of the same. Mr. Harriman, think about it. It is time to call a halt to that. Mr. Truman did it when he repudiated the "police state" upon which Mr. Harriman is, nevertheless, embarking him.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

SIGHING AND DEEP BREATHING

A middle-aged woman consulted her physician about symptoms that seemed to be present only when she was tired or upset. She complained of a feeling of lightheadedness, of finding it hard to get her breath, that she just could not seem to get enough air into her lungs. At times also, she had a numbness and tingling in her fingers and toes.

Her physician knew that she had just buried a loved one and was emotionally upset. He was able to show her that she was in the habit of sighing a great deal of the time, and thus breathed in more air than she needed. The condition was called hyperventilation or overventilation of the lungs. This caused too much oxygen to be present in the blood, and in the blood, and not enough carbon dioxide. This condition is called respiratory alkalosis.

In "Medical Clinic of North America," Haddon M. Carver, Mayo Clinic, states that as the symptoms naturally alarm the patient because he feels he is smothering, the patient and others about him should know what is causing the symptoms and how these symptoms should be controlled.

An early symptom is that of lightheadedness and unsteadiness. Then follows a feeling of emptiness of the chest, and the patient keeps breathing deeply to get more air that he naturally feels that he needs. Patients may fan themselves and glance around for the nearest exit. Often they will go out of doors or open a window in order to secure more adequate respiration."

There is a dull pressure in the chest and the patient, like most other individuals, thinks he has something wrong with his heart. Because of too much oxygen in the lungs and blood, not enough carbon dioxide pressure and the condition of alkalosis, there is a sense of numbness and tingling in hands and feet and around the lips. A few deep breaths usually brings on the symptoms, if the physician is not sure of the diagnosis.

The treatment consists in holding the breath a few minutes or rebreathing into a paper bag. This gets less oxygen and more carbon dioxide into the lungs, frees more oxygen into the red blood cells, and the symptoms disappear.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Washington, Dec. 14 — The movie industry has firmly determined to eliminate from its payroll ten persons who recently were hailed before the United States Congress and refused to say whether they were members of the Communist party, a subversive organization.

If my ears do not deceive me, the magnates and their counsel meant these dismissals to be accepted as proof that they had cleaned house, absolutely, a little late, to be sure, but better late than never. That makes more sense. Ten babies down, 100 more to go.

Illusion is the great art of the moving pictures. I hope the masters do not deceive themselves, but that is as it may be. One thing I can tell you, however, they haven't deceived the committee on Un-American Activities.

They did not proceed against these ten until the industry had been dragged in leg-irons and handcuffs, so to speak, before the committee. The agents of the industry tried to ridicule the committee but the fact finally got across to the people of the United States that this committee represented and actually personified them. It is a "committee of the House of Representatives."

Say that last again. "Representatives."

These men are elected by direct vote of the people of the United States to "represent" them. They are more representative of the American people than the sneering, supercilious continental types of Hollywood realized. They look just like so many people of the United States. Some of the members make amusing little mistakes in grammar and figures of speech. These Hollywood intellectuals can sneer at these slips, but that is where they make a great mistake, themselves. Many of the people of the United States also use double negatives and jumbled metaphors and they will not thank you for curling a lip at them. They will make you sorry.

All of a sudden the men who represented the industry, stopped short and went into a solemn, frightened huddle in New York. The "people" were good and sore. They had just been paying unbelievable salaries to men who were in a position to poison the stream of culture and make it a sewer by the time it flowed through the theatres on a thousand Main streets; who refused even to say whether they were for or against the United States. The "people" were supporting their "representatives" and they showed their sentiments in letters to the editors, to the theatre managers and to the producers in Hollywood. They were starting to show it at the box-office, too.

They were good and tired of being lectured on "Americanism" by malicious doctrinaires who either came here from Europe or stretched an ear toward Europe for their guidance. The racial and social problems of the United States are peculiar and our own, and are not to be dealt with peacefully by iron rules devised by Europeans with the very purpose of causing petty anger, tiny in themselves, but only as the head of a match is tiny, and with equally fearful potentialities. The Americans were sore at Hollywood for scolding them and native American customs and traditions. Sore at Hollywood for advertising them to the world as failures at self-government and advertising the abundant life of the United States as a system composed 90 per cent of poverty and 10 per cent of disgusting vulgarity and cruel greed.

The most revolting vulgarity in the United States was not observed in the moral family circles of the decent well-to-do, depicted in the movies as the idle rich, but in the palaces and ranch-houses and camps and gambling resorts of the moving picture set.

Now, if Hollywood had an intelligent respect for the dignity and pride of the people of the United States, the industry would have taken the initiative, itself, long ago, to eliminate the Communists.

How? Well, how does Hollywood usually get rid of people who, for reasons of personal vengeance and racial bigotry are marked for elimination? By nodding them out, that is how. It has been done for years.

"Sorry, nothing today." A reporter on the editorial staff of a newspaper who attempted handling a legitimate news story without a trace and without risk of legal process. It is an old Hollywood art and custom.

But the industry wouldn't take the initiative and when the committee called the hearings the Hollywood giants were still confident that by posing legalistic problems and repeating old European memory-gems about unfettered art and freedom of expression they could fool the people and continue on.

This time, though, the "representatives" of the "people" were sure-footed, cool and aggressive. They took no monkey business. They were ready to prove with Communist party cards and other party records that a group of pampered volunteers, forever snarling about our wicked system and the denial of opportunity, were Communists.

The industry apparently hopes that the committee will forget them and take off after some other suspects. But the "representatives" of the "people" are not asleep but just squinting waiting to see whether Hollywood will do the rest of the job honestly and voluntarily. It is much too early to cheer while the mourner on the bench is bawling repentance but with his wicked mind out of town come sundown. (Copyright, 1947, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

C. R. DOUGLAS

At least one gripe in the copious flow from the sardonic searching of Westbrook Pegler has stirred approbation in this department.

Our modern Lincoln Steffens has made a career of striking hard at the careers of many who have gained national prominence, but it would probably take a board of research experts to weigh his documented facts against drastic comment. He apparently pulls no punches with either, and for that he is both praised and despised.

We cannot back many of his scathing attacks on both groups and individuals, because neither could possibly use the same space through the year to strike back, but in a recent column he hit upon a gripe that has been common among newspaper men for many years.

After attacking personalities for several paragraphs, the writer struck at the Broadway columnist with these words: "A child can string together little 30-word blunts of unrelated notes. Young reporters and aging journalists of proven professional class are embittered by the recognition and pay accorded some of the Broadway and Hollywood tattlers."

Most columnists of the type mentioned arrived at their incredible salaries through the scandal hunt or key-hole peeping for all varieties of libel-proof sensationalism and their so-called "news" tips, predictions and exposures are palmed off in one or two lines of eight-point type.

A reporter on the editorial staff of a newspaper who attempted handling a legitimate news story the same way, would be tossed out on his ear. It is his job to dig deep for all facts behind the news tip, if it is worth publishing at all, and moreover, he is expected to know how to present his news story, step by step, in the style known to him as "the inverted pyramid."

The Broadway columnist today is an institution fed by virtually every publicity and public relations house in the business. His typewriter gives away small fortunes in free advertising and he enjoys every known license in the use of the English language.

It is the reporter's job to give as complete a service as possible to the reader in the handling of all essential phases of a news story, and he never attempts to win public interest with mere hints of big news. Building on rumor is not his business, nor is he allowed to go out on the limb with a half truth.

The reporter, generally, is guided by definite policies of accuracy and good taste, and he is a bad one, indeed, if he goes out of his way to destroy reputations. His job mainly is to tell a story objectively and without coloring language or fact. Most reporters also experience many hours of work under pressure, and they are not allowed to deliver their own baggage in such lines as the columnist's favorite, "as we predicted here last week."

Perhaps the staff men would gripe less if columnists as a class represented the best newspaper men on earth. The truth is (and backed up this time) that most of them would have a tussle with an ordinary police beat.

Volition Rather Than Coercion Is Considered Theme of Republican Anti-Inflation Program

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 15—Voluntary cooperation by the people and their government—volition rather than coercion—is the theme of the Republican anti-inflation program as it will be passed by Congress.

If voluntary "controls" should prove ineffective, compulsory controls will ensue.

The Republican theory is that the nation should have a chance to test out voluntary controls. Since this requires specific legislation, the President would be empowered to take the steps necessary to effectuate the voluntary program.

Even if voluntary controls should not attain the desired goals, Congress will not give the President blanket over-all authority to control the nation's economic system but will be agreeable to "selective" controls in specific industries.

This decision is of momentous importance. It is popular not only inside the Republican party but inside the Democratic party. For it is in keeping with American tradition and experience. It is, moreover, much more likely to bring the necessary increases in production which are the objective of the whole program anyway.

President Truman got mixed up at a press conference last week and said as long as he was in the White House the antitrust laws wouldn't be suspended for anyone. He clumsily withdrew his comment the next day when he found out that this would affect the very proposals made by his own secretary of commerce.

Now it is clear that some amendment of the law is necessary. It is clear also that the president is not to be given dictatorial power over industry and business, but it is to be asked to take the leadership in a program of voluntary cooperation between business and government. This is bound to be effective, because, while the plan is voluntary, it will mean eventual compulsion if any elements prove recalcitrant and do not go along with fair programs worked out by governmental officials and industrial executives together in particular industries.

Congress will accept the Republican plan because there isn't a handful of votes except among the Socialists and "Left-Wingers" who want government control of the whole economy. If complete control were instituted, then the

Rochester Orchestra Gives Concert Here

The Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Erich Leinsdorf played a concert at Kingston High School auditorium Sunday afternoon as the second in this year's series of Kingston Community Concert Association programs. The four major selections were von Weber's Overture to "Der Freischutz," Beethoven's Symphony No. 4 in E Flat Major Op. 60; Strauss' tone poem, "Don Juan"; and Theme and variations from Tchaikovsky's Suite No. 3 in G. Opus 55.

As an encore the orchestra played the familiar wedding march from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream."

All of the compositions were similar in scope, played with efficiency, good tone, balance, but with little gaiety, except for a few moments of sly humor among the instruments at the close of the symphony by Beethoven. Near the end of the themes from Don Juan which suggested the characteristics of the Don, devoted to the adoration of the whole feminine world.

The applause called the conductor back to the stage several times and most graciously he gave his musicians a standing ovation. The excellent taste and musicianship of the conductor and his orchestra made the concert a pleasant afternoon of symphonic music.

The symphony orchestra was voted as the most popular type of concert by the members of the association last spring and the engagement of the Rochester Philharmonic was a result of the decision. The final concert of the series will be March 3, 1948 when Dorothy Maynor will sing.

DON'T KEEP HIM STANDING

A situation of daily occurrence is described as follows: "The other day I went to a restaurant with a friend and passed the table of other friends with whom I stopped for a minute to exchange greetings. The man with whom I was lunching thinks that I should have introduced him, and feels that I didn't want the other people to meet him." There was no such reason—I merely thought it awkward. Will you give me your opinion, please?

If the restaurant was not crowded, you should have introduced him. On the other hand, if you merely spoke quickly to someone in passing, then, unless you had a reason for wanting to introduce him, it was unnecessary to do so.

Not Unheard Of

Dear Mrs. Post: When my grandmother died, she left me her engagement ring which happens also to be my birthstone. I never have worn the ring since it is much too large for my finger. Now, however, I am planning to announce my engagement and wondered whether I could use this as my engagement ring. My fiancé, of course, would have it made smaller and would replace some of the missing stones.

Answer: This is a matter of concern to you and alone. It is very usual for a bridegroom to reset a stone of his own family and not unheard of to do this with a stone of her family.

Husbands and Wives, If Evening Party

Dear Mrs. Post: I have moved recently into my new house and would like very much to invite the office force to come out some evening soon. I had not planned on inviting any of the husbands and wives as I rather prefer to have a women's affair. When I told this to one of the women, she was upset and finally told me she could not come if her husband was not invited. Is very much out of order not to include the husbands and wives of those who are married?

Answer: At an evening hour I agree that it would be discourteous in many cases impractical—not to include husbands and wives.

Speaking to a Senator.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a registered nurse taking care of a senator's wife. Should I address the husband as "Mr." or "Senator"?

Answer: "Senator."

Mrs. Post has had so many requests for details in setting a table for formal dinners that she has written a leaflet entitled, "Table Setting," E-30. To obtain a copy send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Only By Working Together Can We Accomplish Anything

Surely, some workman dug in the ditches, preparing a place for the wall.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—A cocktail party is civilization's version of cannibalism—"nuts eating nuts."

Most people who go to cocktail parties say they loathe them. They are just happy hypocrites. Cocktail parties are wonderful things. They are zoos without bars. All the animals can get together, and after the martinis have been around a few times it is just like the old happy carefree days back in the jungle.

I have never seen a movie or play half as interesting as a Gotham cocktail party, and I love them all the way through from the first glaucous taste of fishpaste-and-washboard right on to the sodium bicarbonate I take the next morning.

Deep Purpose

In New York cocktail parties rarely happen accidentally. They usually have a deep "purpose" to pay off social debts en masse, to launch a better mousetrap or to sell a celebrity that nobody ever heard of before except his mother and his publisher.

They are supposed to have a time limit, but the only ones who take it seriously are the host and/or the hostess. I like to go early and stay late, for the same reason that I hate to leave in the middle of a movie.

When you arrive the place is always fresh and magnificently neat, and when you leave it looks as if it had been kicked apart by a muscular horse.

Must Be There

Through the years you get accustomed to certain familiar figures, and I feel cheated now at a cocktail party unless these show up:

(1) The dour thin man who wanders around all evening with a glass of ginger ale muttering methodically: "Ulcers. My doctor says I can't drink a drop. Ulcers." (2) The amateur juggler who wants to prove he can keep three oranges in the air, and ends up by smashing a window or hitting the guest of honor in the eye.

(3) The middle-aged lady who sheds her shoes and inhibitions and rehearses old love affairs with windy regret.

(4) The drunk who spills his drink on the sofa while explaining how he burned a hole in the rug with his cigar.

(5) The aging wolf who wasn't satisfied with grandma and tries to paw all the pretty young Red Riding Hoods.

Where the Is Prevail

Some people complain the talk at cocktail parties never makes sense. But where can you hear such fabulous nonsense? It is conversation—jet-propelled, and anybody who doesn't start each sentence with "I" is suspected of being an exhibitionist.

There is glamor, glamor everywhere, and the nice part about it is that it comes apart at the seams by the middle of the evening like a wedding cake left in the rain.

A cocktail party is just the adult's harmless way of trying to recapture childhood's lost land of make-believe. Nothing said at one is ever taken seriously—that's part of the game—and when it's time to go all the marvelous people who ordinarily wouldn't give each other the time even if clocks were free, say:

"Now you call me tomorrow." And they add under their breath: "If I thought you really would, I'd have the telephone taken out tonight."

Everybody goes home consoled by the knowledge they won't have to see each other again—until the next cocktail party.

Dewey Suggests 'Community' Law To Aid Taxpayers

Governor Says State Would Be Forced to Take Action, if U. S. Stalls Along

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 15 (AP)—Governor Dewey says the 80th Congress should end federal income tax "discrimination" against married taxpayers in states with common law property systems.

Otherwise, Dewey says, New York will be "forced" to enact community property legislation in 1949 to save its taxpayers an estimated $170,000,000 annually.

Only married taxpayers with an income exceeding $3,000 would be affected.

In community property states, husband and wife may divide certain income so that each pays a tax on one-half, thus avoiding the higher surtax bracket for the total income. This is not possible in New York and 35 other non-community property states.

Dewey wants Congress to remedy what he considers an "indefensible defect in the federal income tax law," through which he said married couples of 12 community property states pay less in taxes than couples with the same income in states with common law property systems.

Dewey, in a statement released Saturday night with a 32-page study of the advisability of a state community property law, declared:

"If the Congress and the President fail to take action in the coming year, the state will be forced to modify its laws to protect its citizens as best it can from the present discriminatory situation."

Matter of Desperation

Alger B. Chapman, state commissioner of taxation, who conducted the study, advised against state action before 1949, because of pending federal legislation. He said state action "cannot be justified except as a matter of desperation."

Both Dewey and Chapman said adoption of a state community property law would pose complicated statutory and legal problems.

Dewey said a state law "not only would disrupt the whole foundation of our legal system, but would also involve questions of constitutionality which might severely limit the adequacy of such a statute."

Chapman said federal action would involve "only a relatively simple change in the federal tax laws." A state statute would be the "remedy of the most drastic kind," he asserted.

Chapman recommended that Dewey appoint a committee of "experts" to prepare community property legislation in advance so New York could avoid "at least some of the serious complications" experienced by states which recently adopted such statutes.

Authoritative sources indicated Dewey would name a committee soon.

Community property state couples pay $38 less on a husband's $25,000 income, $342 less on $100,000 and $683 less on $15,000, Chapman's report showed. The difference amounts as high as 40 per cent on a $25,000 income, then declines, he said.

The differential would be "less substantial in the event of a reduction" in surtax rates, Chapman declared.

Due to the differential, however, residents of common law states pay an estimated $700,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 more than residents of community property states in the same income, he added. He estimated New York's "additional tax" at $170,000,000.

The following is a letter I recently sent out on our 14th anniversary.

I want all of you to know how fortunate we are and how good we should feel in the fine group of fellows we have in the Tavern Owners of Ulster County. They have lent their whole-hearted cooperation, so today Ulster County is serving the best glass of draught beer in the Country.

To this fine group and all breweries who have worked with us, I say, many thanks.

SAUGERTIES, N. Y.

Dear Friend:

Through your cooperation and confidence, we have now been in business fourteen years.

These many years of service have been a pleasure. My organization joins me in saying thanks for the many opportunities extended to us, to forge ahead to build what is recognized as the finest beer sanitation attained to date and first to prove beer could be controlled at tremendous savings per year. We want you to know that you are an important member of that large family living in the Hudson Valley who made this possible. Yes, you have helped us climb by continuously serving your patrons a glass of beer as pure as it is humanly possible to serve. It is this help, faith and confidence that makes it a pleasure to me personally, to dig into scientific research for further improvements in beer and equipment.

Ulster county, where we serve the greatest percentage of taverns, is today, serving the best draught beer in the country. I look forward to serving the greatest percentage in all counties where we operate. This can be brought about with hard work on our part and a little boost from those who know our service and what it means to good beer and top profits.

With renewed, sincere thanks for your cooperation, and good wishes to you, we remain,

Cordially yours,

PREMIER BEER COIL CLEANERS,
AL MAURO,
Owner and Founder.

Earl Baldwin, 80, Dies; Premier Who Forced Abdication

STANLEY BALDWIN
London, Dec. 15 (AP)—Earl Baldwin, 80, thirteenth Prime Minister of Britain, died in his sleep Saturday at his home in Stourport, Worcestershire—11 years after he had forced Edward VIII to renounce his throne as the price for choosing to marry an American divorcee.
It was Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and the late Cosmo Gordon Lang, Archbishop of Canterbury, who told Edward that he must renounce either the throne or twice-divorced Wallis Warfield Simpson. Edward chose abdication.
It was Baldwin, who on Dec. 10 stood before the House of Commons with tears in his eyes and delivered the message of abdication from Edward, a personal friend.
"No more grave message has ever been received by Parliament and no more difficult, and I might say, more repugnant task has ever been imposed on a Prime Minister," he said.
Shortly thereafter Baldwin became Earl Baldwin of Bowdley and retired to his birthplace in Stourport to "raise pigs."
Baldwin, often described as the "most English of Englishmen," was a conservative in politics who believed firmly in British-American cooperation.
The son of Alfred Baldwin, wealthy chairman of Baldwin's Ltd., ironmasters, and of the Great Western Railway, Baldwin was educated in the upper class tradition at Eton and Trinity College, Cambridge.
First elected to Parliament, in 1908, he served as Prime Minister from May 25, 1923 to January 22, 1924; from November 6, 1924 to June 4, 1929, and from June 7, 1935 to May 28, 1937. He described the post as "the loneliest job in the world."
Baldwin was one of the first Englishmen to realize the menace of Nazism, and on July 31, 1934 electrified the House of Commons with the assertion that "Britain's new frontiers are on the Rhine."
He is survived by two sons and four daughters. His wife died two years ago.
Cremation is to take place in Birmingham Wednesday or Thursday.

State Milk Output To Surpass Record

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 15 (AP)—New York state's milk production this year is expected to surpass the record 7,091,000,000 pounds of 1945.

The Federal-State Agricultural Statistical Service noted the "usual" fall low in November but said that "despite the reversal of trend which may be startling, it seems likely that the entire 1947 production will equal or slightly exceed the previous record."

A report issued yesterday said the November output totaled approximately 419,000,000 pounds, 49 per cent below October's but about equal to November production last year.

One hundred generals were either killed, wounded or captured during World War 2.

Girl Has Backing In 'Slacks' Dispute

Camden, N. Y., Dec. 15 (AP)—Fourteen-year-old Jeannette Delahunt had her father's backing for wearing slacks to school today against the principal's orders.

Central School Principal Donald H. Baker said he might press "truancy or illegal detention" charges if the girl did not report in a dress. Controversy in this central New York community of 2,000 has been heated since Jeannette was sent home last Tuesday to "get a dress," because slacks had been banned for several years. She remained away for the rest of the week.

Said her father, Thomas Delahunt: "I have a right to dress my child as I see fit, so long as she is clean and decent."

Man Robs Central Passengers in Illinois

Chicago, Dec. 15 (AP)—A negro gunman, single-handedly, robbed the passengers in two cars of a New York Central passenger train of jewelry and an undetermined amount of cash between a suburban station and the downtown terminal Saturday night.

Judge Roger Kiley of the Illinois

Appellate Court, one of several judges and lawyers among the victims, estimated the cash loot at $3500. He said several watches and rings were taken from passengers in the rear car.

H. E. Brice, 55, a porter, said the robber boarded the train when it stopped at the Englewood (63rd street) station and that he carried a paper bag into which he forced about 10 passengers in the rear car to drop their wallets, watches and rings.

The gunman then moved forward to the dining car where he robbed Douglas Tate, head waiter, of $196.20. He jumped from the train as it slackened speed approaching the terminal.

Royal Honeymoon Couple Returns to Workaday World

London, Dec. 15 (AP)—Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip were back in the workaday world of royalty today after 23 days of honeymoon seclusion.

The young couple stepped off the Aberdeen Express yesterday and were whisked away to Buckingham Palace, where they will live until their own quarters in Clarence House—an old mansion overlooking St. James Park—are ready for occupancy.

For Philip, the end of the honeymoon meant a return to his duties with the Royal Navy. Still on the active list with the rank of lieutenant, he was scheduled to take up a new post at once in the admiralty's operations division.

Elizabeth will oversee the redecoration of Clarence House, which will take about a year.

The royal honeymooners' return to London coincided with the 52nd birthday of King George VI, which was observed with a family party at Windsor Castle. The birthday is celebrated officially on June 13—because the weather then is more propitious for public ceremonies traditional to the occasion.

On Wednesday the House of Commons is expected to debate the question of whether Philip should have an allowance of $10,000 ($40,000) annually as a royal duke and husband of the future queen.

A majority of an all-party Parliamentary committee proposed the latter amount, but five of the nine Laborite members insisted Philip should have only half that much and that Princess Elizabeth should get only $35,000 ($140,000) instead of the $40,000 ($160,000) which the majority favored.

The cabinet will debate the issue tomorrow.

Philip's salary as a naval lieutenant is $51.80 a week, including a marriage allowance of $17.50.

700 Persons Attend Auditorium Concert

Between 600 and 700 people gathered at the municipal auditorium Saturday evening for the sacred Christmas concert presented by the Missionary Training Institute of Nyack under the auspices of the Hudson Valley Evangelical Fellowship.

A 35-voice vested choir and a 35-piece orchestra highlighted the program. Members of the Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Geraldine Southern, also rendered selections which were well received.

Local ministers participating were the Rev. Charles H. Kegerize, Alliance Gospel Church, invocation; the Rev. Osterhout Phillips, D.D., Ponckhockie Congregational Church, welcome; and the Rev. Edward V. Winder, D.D., First Baptist Church, benediction. Earl Davis, a member of the school symphony orchestra, led the congregational singing. Miss Betty Robinson was the accompanist and Dr. Lee Olson, director of the Sacred School of Music, Nyack, conducted the orchestra.

Elwyn to Assist Vets in Copying Papers for Bonus

Woodstock, Dec. 15—Grant Elwyn, Woodstock Town Clerk, has announced that he will provide photostat copies of veteran's discharge papers which must be filed with applications for the New York state bonus. He will be assisted by Paul Joyce, Legion Adjutant; Commander Benjamin Buley and Harry Kutzschbach.

Veterans may bring their separation papers to the Town Clerk's office, Woodstock, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., and during the evening hours when someone is stationed at the office, prior to December 24.

Meanwhile, Commander Buley, American Legion, Woodstock Post 1026, has suggested the following points to be remembered by the veterans before applying:

1—Full-size photostat copy of honorable discharge, certificate in lieu of lost discharge, or notice of separation must accompany all applications. The photostat copies should be obtained now so that veterans will be ready to file their applications promptly.

2—Only those veterans who served between December 7, 1941, and September 2, 1945, inclusive, and who were separated from such service under honorable conditions, are eligible.

3—No applications will be accepted in Albany until after January 1, 1948. It is expected that bonus application blanks will be available commencing Wednesday, December 31.

The bonus, voted favorably by New York state voters at the November election, provides the following payments: $50 for service of 60 days or less within the United States; $150 for service of more than 60 days within the United States; $250 maximum for service of any duration outside the United States. Next of kin of deceased servicemen also are eligible to collect the bonus payment.

SANTA CLAUS DELIVERS BY DECEMBER 25th

-and so do KAISER-FRAZER dealers!

Yes! Delivery by Christmas! If your family needs a new car why not buy one for Christmas? You can put the keys to a new Kaiser or Frazer on your Christmas tree—and the car itself will be out in front of your home! Yes, if you make up your mind within the next three days, we guarantee that, like Santa Claus, we will deliver by December 25th.

You and yours can't get a Christmas thrill out of a gift certificate! You can't ride this winter in a car you may get next Spring! So, if you are tired of waiting, tired of promises, and tired of driving that old, worn-out, prewar relic you have "made-do" till now, come in! Willow Run production has been stepped up again—and we are delivering now!

Why the Kaiser and the Frazer Give You Unequalled Motor Car Value!

Kaiser-Frazer Corporation builds four, 100% postwar automobiles—the Kaiser, the Frazer, the Frazer Manhattan, and the Kaiser Custom. Each in its price class gives you the greatest value you can get for your money. This you can easily and quickly prove.

The value of a motor car, as any automobile dealer will tell you, is based on four primary points: Appearance, Performance, Reputation, Year Built.

Appearance—Is it modern? How up-to-date will its lines be a year or two from now? Kaiser-Frazer automobiles are unquestioned style leaders. They have established the new trend in motor car design which the rest of the industry is already beginning to follow.

Performance—means more than just plenty of power! It includes economy, roadability, roominess, comfort, and safety on all types of roads. Kaiser-Frazer cars, with 100% postwar chassis, are famous for the economy resulting from high horsepower-to-weight ratio; for safety that comes with a lower center of gravity; for roominess that is the result of both seats 7 inches more than 5 feet wide; and above all, for their ride—the result of a new distribution of load.

Reputation—In less than 2 years the Kaiser and the Frazer have established a world-wide reputation both for design and quality. Today, more than 125,000 owners can testify that these cars stand up, give extraordinary, trouble-free service under every condition of climate and usage.

Year Built—Any new car you buy this year was built this year. But remember that some cars built this year were designed six years ago! When really new models of these cars come out, they are likely to be very different from the 1941-1947 design! Value for your today's transportation dollars should not be depreciated by your car's own manufacturer! Kaiser-Frazer cars need no changes to bring them up-to-date!

YOU PAY THE REGULAR PRICE • NO TRADE-IN NECESSARY • HONEST ALLOWANCE ON YOUR OLD CAR • CALL YOUR KAISER-FRAZER DEALER AND TAKE A RIDE! BOTH CARS ARE SERVICED WITH GENUINE FACTORY PARTS, WHEREVER YOU GO, BY ONE OF THE FOUR LARGEST AUTOMOBILE DEALER ORGANIZATIONS IN THE WORLD.

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Harry Feinberg, formerly of Cleveland and a well-known Life Master of the middle west, has moved to New York and is now in charge of the card room at the New York Bridge Whist Club. Once in a while he has a chance to sit in, and he says they have plenty of fireworks at the club.

I rather like Feinberg's pre-emptive bid of four diamonds on today's hand. It certainly interfered with West. Nevertheless West did come up with a good bid, five clubs.

Now would you have bid six or seven clubs with the East hand? Remember that this was rubber bridge, and East-West were vulnerable.

After some study East decided against bidding more clubs, and Feinberg bid five diamonds. West's pass left it entirely up to East, who made the mistake of doubling rather than continuing in clubs. His judgment was not necessarily bad, but the results turned out very badly for him.

West's ace of clubs held and he continued with the club queen, which Feinberg ruffed. A small diamond was led to dummy's queen, and the nine of spades came back.

You can see that it made no difference whether East covered with the ten or not. If he did not cover, Feinberg would let it ride. West would be forced to win a heart, would be trumped by declarer, the second round of diamonds led to dummy's ace, and the lead of the eight of spades would leave East helpless.

If he covered with the ten this time, Feinberg would win with the jack, cash the king of spades and ruff his last spade in dummy, thus making five-odd on a hand at which East and West could make seven hearts. Seven clubs could be defeated with a heart opening by North.

Terry Tullos Is Chosen for Poster

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—Three-year-old Terry Tullos, who was stricken with poliomyelitis before he learned to walk, has been chosen as the 1948 March of Dimes campaign poster child, symbolizing the victims of polio.

Basel O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, announced yesterday that the golden-haired boy, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Tullos, of Laurel, Miss., has been picked as the youngest child ever to appear on the poster.

Terry, stricken in 1945, still wears braces but is expected eventually to regain full use of his legs. The fund appeal will be from January 1 to 30 and O'Connor said $300,000,000 will be needed next year because of the increase of polio cases during the past five years.

Russia Objects, Calls Court in Violation

Geneva, Switzerland, Dec. 15 (AP)—Russia objected today to a proposal for establishing an international court of human rights as a "violation of national sovereignty."

The United Nations Human Rights Commission, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, had before it a proposal to establish a five-member U.N. Commission to receive complaints and submit international court for arbitration.

A. E. Bogomolov, the Russian delegate, contended the commission would be a "microscopic body swamped by an avalanche of petitions." He attacked also the proposed court. The Ukrainian delegate previously had walked out asserting the discussion was "premature."

Under the plan a purchasing agent will buy all food for campus groups and operate an employment agency for cooks and waiters. The four who suggested the plan are Frederick Ruffo, Maplewood, N. Navy Has New Jet Fighter for Carrier Operation

Washington, Dec. 15 (AP)—The Navy disclosed today it has a new jet fighter, the Grumman F9F Panther, which combines a top speed of more than 600 miles an hour with the quick transfers and slow landings needed for aircraft carrier operations.

The announcement said the Panther marks two important steps in American aviation.

It is the first operational plane using the "droop snoot," in which the wing is changed from a high speed to a high lift design by extending the leading edge forward and downward for take off and landing.

Radiator Valves

If radiators do not heat all the way across, there is probably an obstruction in the valve, and the valve should be replaced.

Dewey, Taft...

let go by default the support it has been trying to hold together and to build up since 1944.

But Dewey himself is said to believe that a formal announcement, followed by an active campaign on his part, would do little to influence the final convention result. He is not inclined to "struggle" for the nomination in that way, his friends say.

In any event, Dewey's duties as governor of New York are likely to tie him to his desk in the first four months of next year. With the State Legislature in session, he will be engaged in wading through upwards of 1,000 bills in April when the important Wisconsin primary takes place.

He has indicated he has no intention of campaigning prior to that time in Wisconsin or elsewhere, but his supporters say they are confident that Dewey will do as well as in 1944 when he got 17 of Wisconsin's 24 delegates. The state will send 27 delegates to the 1948 convention.

The Dewey camp claims 400 votes for their candidate, concedes Taft a maximum of 175, dismisses Stassen with fewer than 100 and assigns the remainder to favorite son or uncommitted rank. A total of 547 is needed to nominate.

Taft supporters, on the other hand, claiming 250 on the first ball, pooh-pooh Dewey's 400. Stassen's backers contend they will go into the convention with upwards of 150 delegates.

Like Dewey, Taft apparently will engage in a minimum of stump speaking in the next few months. He expects to write his record in Congress with the idea that his record there either will make or break his chances for the nomination.

GLASS
Gives A Room Charm
... Adds Sparkle!
Protects Fine Furniture, too!
PITTSBURGH Plate Glass mirrors and furniture tops can be used in a score of places to add beauty to your home. A venetian mirror over the buffet and a mirrored top make mealtime more cheerful. A graceful mirror over the mantel or sofa adds color and sparkle to a living room. A full-length door mirror brightens up a dark hall or bedroom. And with furniture tops protecting your fine furniture there's no need to worry about scratches or marks made by "sweating" glasses or forgotten cigarettes.
